This will be a wilderness trip and we practice low-impact camping. It would be of great help if you pack light! The above listed required minimal gear is really all you need to have a wonderful wilderness experience with Lander Llama Company. A waterproof stuff sack will be provided for your clothing that will be received and packed the night before departure. It is 12" x 25", and all of the above clothing gear will fit into the sack and should weigh no more than 18 pounds. Your camera, medications, mosquito repellent, sun screen, sun glasses, compass, water bottle, and rain gear will be in your readily accessible day pack. The day of departure will dictate as to what type of clothing we will start out in. Remember, we supply all of your camping gear, but some people prefer to bring their own, so please let us know what gear you are planning to bring, such as sleeping bags, tents, and pads so we may be prepared.

We recommend layering clothing, rather than bulky jackets. Our wilderness llama pack trips are true wilderness vacations. We will be miles and hours from civilization. We recommend walking daily to help prepare you for this trip. Our trips will start out at 9,000 ft. and may progressively reach a maximum elevation of 11,000 ft. Camping spots will vary between these elevations. We pride ourselves in providing quality comfortable services to our guests, but minor inconveniences may be experienced without daily showers, and there are no designated outhouses in the wilderness. Each person will be provided TP and a trowel, and a small collapsible wash basin.
